

The Music of the Soul

This is the music of the soul. When he lives in the garden, he sings. God makes this music and he lives in a garden different from any garden he has lived in before. He lives inside the garden of the soul. He has left his body because his body is not important in this religion. From the beginning, his body must be left outside and must be kept clean. Each follower lives with his God at the height of politeness. He knows the meaning of politeness and his heart is very beautiful. When he begins to sin, his soul begins to speak and he knows the meaning of every word he sings. When he begins to remember the unity, he sees only the face of God. He sees light coming from the letters of the name, and each letter becomes bigger and bigger.
