Sohrab's Diary 5 Jan 1913 - 11 Jan 1913

Overview

The Diary

What follows, is a very detailed account of Abdu'l-Bahá's visit to Edinburgh by Ahmad Sohrab, who was amongst Abdu'l-Bahá's entourage, and also His translator. The Diary takes the form of letters written each day, on 7 Charlotte Square headed paper, to Harriet Magee of New York. These letters are part of a huge volume in the US Bahá'í Archives. The story really begins in Edinburgh on the 6 Jan; however, some early mentions of Edinburgh and the 5 Jan have been included as a lead-in, along with some extra items by Ahmad Sohrab after leaving Edinburgh.

Other Accounts

In addition to this Diary by Ahmad Sohrab, there is also the account of the Master's visit to Edinburgh in Volume 2 of Mahmud-ı-Zarqani's diary (volume 1 being translated as 'Mahmud's Diary'), with is untranslated publically, although Abid Taherzadeh did a translation of the section on Edinburgh. There was also the diary of Abdu'l-Bahá's host, Mrs Whyte ('she had a diary and kept I think written down everything'), although this latter diary is yet to be found, and finally, various minor references and recollections.

Notes Whilst Reading

It should be borne in mind whilst reading, that Ahmad Sohrab often quotes Abdu'l-Bahá without using any quotation marks, with the result that when the Diary says 'I' as if Sohrab is speaking, it is often Abdu'l-Bahá speaking.

The state of the Diary, means that the writing was hard to read, and symbols used in the text are detailed after the Diary as an appendix.

At the end, there is a description of 7 Charlotte Sq, a map showing how Edinburgh in 1915 compared to the size of Edinburgh today, and a map of where Abdu'l-Bahá visited, and a list of contents of the Diary with page numbers.

Small raised numbers are to footnotes at the bottom of the page, whilst numbers within a square are original page numbers in the diary e.g. [1].

Special Note

The words of Abdu'l-Bahá are the recollection and understanding of the author at the end of the day, conveyed through a different language, and should not be taken as Abdu'l-Bahá's exact words or meaning. Abdu'l-Bahá's actions and their context and intent are similarly subject to the author's recollection and understanding.

Plan for Edinburgh

[1] ...The plan of Edinburgh is presented to the Master[1]. He says I have not been there yet, and they have already planned what I must do in every hour. Then He jokes with them about these {rigid} customs, {program-making} and date-fixing of this2 so far ahead...

Dear Harriet4

The English

This is Sunday and tomorrow at 10.am our train will start for Edinburgh, so this is the last letter that I am writing to you from London in which we have already spent 20 memorable days! for ourselves and the Cause. Just at this time there is a great spirit of attraction and enkindlement amongst the Bahais as well as those who are on the verge of becoming as such. It has often been {said} that once the English people take hold of this Cause, they will spread it most energetically; therefore there are many important men and women who come and go with zeal to do that which lies in their power to propagate these doctrines. They are an excellent race, full of pluck and courage.

Illness, Interviews, Daily Schedule

[2] This morning when I entered in the Presence of Our Lord I found him indisposed. Last night, he said, he could not sleep he had fever, the climate not agreeing with Him. I was very sorry but he came out at about 9 o'clock the interviews started. Every evening at midnight or after midnight, Our Beloved gets up and for at least two hours he prays and communes with the Infinite and when He gets up in the morning, he again prays for more than an hour. Does not this teach us a lesson in prayer with God, Our Master who sustains us, provides for us and protects us?

A Woman's Questions

::: A woman who lives in the same <??afsh> House called on the Master and had many questions about Christ “within”, visions, dreams, spiritual life and many other topics. Lovingly Our Beloved discarded her ideas and notions about these matters, telling her the realities of every question. "Today," he

2 In the emended text: "the western people".
3 97 Cadogan Gardens was the home of Lady Sara Blomfield, who was a very active believer of extraordinary service to the Cause, author of 'The Chosen Highway', and whose notes form the substance of Paris Talks; she visited Edinburgh in 1926.
4 Miss Harriet Magee of New York (1883 - 16 Jan 1915 Green Acre, Eliot, Maine) - Canadian Bahá'í (1899) from London, Ontario. Met Abdu'l-Bahá in Green Acre and New York City, 5 Dec 1912. In 1910 elected to the New York City Women’s Board of Council. She with her mother, Esther Magee and sister Edith Magee Inglis were the first Bahá'ís in Canada. said, "the door of the Kingdom of God is open, you must enter therein."
"Where is this Kingdom?" she hesitantly asked. "It's the Celestial Kingdom of Abha," the Master answers her. "Oh! I don't see it! Is it impossible for me to enter therein?" "No! Turn your face to God; trust in him, submit all your thoughts and ideas to Him and he shall lead you to His eternal Kingdom!" "But, I have been doing this for ~2~ long years! Very good! I hope you shall attain therein."

English Minister in China - Women

After a few more people coming and receiving divine Blessings, an English minister who has been in China for 40 yrs is ushered into the Presence of Our Beloved. He is interested in the education and uplift of the Chinese women. He has done everything possible to help them. He has heard that the Bahais are doing a wonderful educational work in Persia and he likes to get the facts so that he may write them for the Chinese people to show them how their Asiatic brothers are advancing in education. The Chinese are great imitators and if you show them how their Persian sisters are progressing they will walk in the same footsteps. The Master was patient enough to give him enough data and material so that he may go and write his articles. "This is indeed a marvellous man" he says as he goes out of the room, his face beaming with happiness.

How To Hold Meetings

Then one of the friends comes in and asks how the Bahais must conduct their meetings in London. When the believers gather together the Master answers "their sole object must be the commemoration of God. When all the friends are present, one in the most clear and effective voice, may read a prayer or commune."

Then for 5 or ten minutes to most quiet communing with the source of life, and thinking how they should be better and act nobly; then one who knows how to speak may rise and deliver an address either on the proofs and evidences of the Cause, the hardships and tribulations of Baha-ollah, the exposition of the Bahai principles, quoting from the Tablets of the Blessed Perfection to the Kings and rulers etc. etc. When this is over, one or the same person may read another among the supplications, thus bringing the meeting to a close. Then they may either talk with each other in groups or may return to their homes or they may serve refreshments. The questioner asked about music. "As regards to music, they may act as they are pleased. If they like to have it, all right; if not, again it is all right."

Farewell Address to London

At twelve o'clock the Master entered the Drawing room and spoke a farewell address, expressing his hope that the seeds which he has sown in the ground of the hearts may develop and grow and bring many harvests.

Interviews, Rastam Pasha

Today He did not go out, because it was rainy, foggy and very damp. The afternoon was devoted to many more interviews. The wife of an Englishman who has been serving in the Turkish Government for 40 yrs came to see the Master. This Englishman was working with another Englishman who was given the title of "Rastam Pasha" by the Turkish authorities. It so happened that the Master knew "Rastam Pasha" when he was the governor of Lebanon. "He was a good man," Our Beloved said. "He was more loyal to the Turkish government than most of the ministers. If Turkey had five ministers like "Rastam Pasha", she would not have met so many difficulties" Then the Master told us several intimate stories about this man which in turn surprised and delighted our guest. The story of Rastam Pasha's hunting with this Emperor of Russia and how he saved the latter was very dramatic. Another story was about his loyalty in keeping fast during the month of Ramazan, although he was a Christian. Then the story of Sultan Abdu'l Aziz, sending a necklace to the Queen Victoria and its cause [...] sequel was most interesting.

Painter, Evolution

Later on a celebrated painter came and the Darwinian theory of evolution was discussed, its fallacy proved, the two kinds of evolution "horizontal" and "perpendicular" touched upon.

Meeting at Miss Herrick's

Later Mrs Cropper brought her auto and the Master was whisked to Miss Herrick's meeting where we found more than ~150~ people all anxiously waiting the arrival of the Master. He gave a very spiritual lecture, the subject of which it is hard to say. But it was about the negligence of the people about God and their submerging in the sea of materialism.

Maharaja of Rajputana

Tonight His Highness Maharaja of Rajputana dined with the Master. He is an exceedingly charming personality and speaks the English language very fluently. Many topics were discussed, the elevation of the women in India, the progress of aviation, dispelling prejudices from amongst the religions and castes in India, Aryan race, their original home and their migration to Europe. He stayed till 10.30 and invited Our Beloved, Lady Bloomfield and her two daughters and the servants of the Master to dinner on the night of the 18th which invitation was accepted. On the 21st he sails from Marseilles for India. Love to all Ahmad

5 There were perhaps about 40 Bahá'ís in London in 1913, although exact numbers are hard to say, particularly as members (who can vote) and simple admirers were quite vaguely distinguished.

6 Rustem Pasha was son-in-law of "Suleiman the Magnificent", "the Lawgiver" (1494-1566); this latter was the tenth and longest-serving Sultan of the Ottoman Empire, under whose leadership the Ottoman Empire reached its Golden Age and became a world power. The Rustem Pasha Mosque is renowned for its exquisite tiles set in floral and geometric designs.

7 "Sultan" in the amended version; a sultan was a sovereign ruler, or like one.

8 Or "fine" - the handwriting is ambiguous

9 Sultan Abdu'l-Aziz (9 Feb 1830 - 4 Jun 1876) - 32nd sultan of the Ottoman Empire, reigning between 25 Jun 1861 - 30 May 1876

10 Mrs Mary Thornton-Cropper was a close friend of Mrs Whyte; Mary was an American widow resident in London, who taught Ethel Jenner Rosenberg, a painter from a distinguished artistic family; together Mary and Ethel played a key part in establishing the Bahá'í Faith in the UK.

11 Elizabeth Herrick lived in London with Mrs Thornton-Cropper, authored 'Unity Triumphant', and visited Edinburgh in July 1926.

12 Each Indian State had a king ("raja"); a few raja were particularly powerful, and they were called "maharaja".

13 Rajputana (India) was a region of western India, now part of Rajasthan.

Dear Harriet

Whyte’s House

Well, here we are in Edinburgh, in the very artistic house of Mrs Jane E. Whyte15, one of the noblest and kindliest women that I have ever met. Her house is very big and very beautiful. On the second floor she has one of the largest and loveliest libraries that I have ever seen. On the third floor the Master has a large, most comfortable room with a beautiful fire-place, which warms the room and gives it an air of calmness and quietness.

About Edinburgh

As far as I could gather at the table Edinburgh is a very beautiful city, enjoys the splendid reputation of having a wonderful University, with its medical department very famous throughout England and the East; so that students from Burma, Russia, Egypt, India and Persia crowd its lecture-halls and study the profession of medicine. Its population is 300,75 thousands.

Mrs Whyte in Acca

Many years ago I believe Mrs Whyte goes to Acca and for 3 days she stays there receiving the divine teachings16.

Mr Whyte

Mr Whyte17 is a celebrated clergyman, and well known throughout this part of the world.

Train Journey

This morning I got up very early, wrote a few letters, packed my satchel and at 8 o’clock I was ready to start. By that time Lady Bloomfield and her two daughters arrived to meet the Master and accompany him to the station. For the next 4 days they are going to the sea shore to rest and will be back before our return on Friday. Having all our luggage ready Doctor Mousae18, Mirza Mahmaud19, Haji Ameen20 and myself in a taxi cab started ahead of them about 9.10 for the station to buy the tickets and secure the seats. The Master arrived a few minutes later and after a while all of us were in the “car”.

Mirza Lutfollah Hakim21 was added to this party which travelled from America for Europe. At 10 o’clock the train was pulled out of the Eusten station, while the Persians, Mrs Cropper, Lady Bloomfield and other friends were shaking hands and handkerchiefs in the air. On the train I read a portion of Thomas Moore’s22 Utopia to Our Beloved. Later on at twelve o’clock we had all lunch in the dining car, the Master had, however, his own dinner which was prepared by Sayed Assadallah.

Here in England the Railroads charges 2 shillings and half23 for lunch and give you a great deal to eat, very wholesome food. After lunch the Master had a nap and at 4 we all had tea in His Presence.

Miss Ramsey

...He spoke to us at the time about a Miss Ramsey24, from Scotland who was a most zealous missionary in Acca. She was not friendly to the Cause but the Master showed her all manner of kindness because she was very faithful to her Christ. “Miss Ramsey! do you know how much I love you? Look in your heart and see how much you hate me; to that extent I love you.” the Master would tell her as she would try to turn her back upon Him. She had the Bible in her hand, and from morning till evening she would go from house to house and read it to the people. For a long time she used to come to our house and read it to the members of his Household. They did listen to her every time most attentively. Finally she thought that now I have converted them. One day she was reading, when one of the family asked her the meaning of the verse read. She could not give it. They told her this is a prophecy about the appearance of Baha-o-llah. You see, it is so plain. She got very wrath and left the house. She was very charitable.

She spent all her money in this work. She had 12 girls educated in the college in Beirut at her own account and often she gave money to the poor in Acca. For forty years she labored very faithfully and when she was 70 yrs old she said I must return now to Scotland, I have grown too old to be useful. [Abdu’l-Bahá said:] I gave her a farewell banquet. I liked her very much. I would like to see her in Scotland. I will tell her: see, how I have come to see you.

Islamic Sect

Then he told us the evolution and progress of a Mohamadan Sect in Persia, how they became powerful and influential through their chastity and purity.

15 Mrs Jane Elizabeth Whyte (1857-1944) was the wife of Mr Alex Whyte. She was instrumental to Abdu’l-Bahá’s visiting Edinburgh; her maiden name was Jane E Barbour.

16 Mrs Whyte’s account is in “Seven Candles of Unity”, pp 47-49.

17 Mr Alexander Whyte (1837-1921) was a Scottish divine; a minister of the Free Church of Scotland, he became colleague and successor of Dr R S Candlish at Free St Georges (now St George’s West, 58 Shandwick Place), and then principal and professor of New Testament literature at New College, Edinburgh.

19 Mirza Mahmud wrote a diary which includes this visit to Edinburgh.

20 Haji Amin - see earlier note.

21 Mirza Lutfullah Hakim (d. 1968) left a short account of Abdu’l-Bahá’s visit; he later also resided in Edinburgh on the Assembly in 1948, became member of the International Bahá’í Council (1951-61) and the Universal House of Justice (1963-1967).

22 Thomas Moore (28 May 1779 - 25 Feb 1852) was an Irish poet, singer, songwriter, and entertainer.

23 2 shillings and half was about £30 in 2005 money.

24 Miss Wardlaw-Ramsay of the Church Missionary Society opened a station in ‘Acca. (See ‘Studies in Babi and Baha’i History’, Moojan Momen, pp75-76.)
Arrival in Edinburgh

About 6, the lights of Edinburgh are seen[25]. It seems the city is illuminated. The train enters in the station at 6.15 and as we alight Mrs Whyte, Mrs Fraser[26] of London, and several other friends hail our Beloved[27]. An automobile takes the Master, Mrs Whyte and Ahmad[28] to her home, the three others in a hotel near by[29]. Mrs Whyte welcomes the Master, inquires about the trip etc. In the house Mr Whyte, who is a vigorous[30] old man is introduced with her two daughters, and her two sons. Her eldest son is gone to Belgrade[30], to attend to the wounded. Her eldest daughter who met Our Beloved last year in London is married and lives in another city.

Dinner and Visitors

At 7.30 we have dinner, our Persian brothers coming too[31]. At eight a number of people who have been serving on the committee of arrayment are invited to visit Our Beloved. There

[25] "As the train was approaching Edinburgh, in the late afternoon, 'Abdu’l-Bahá, calling His little party together, said, 'We are now coming to Edinburgh, and this is the beginning of the diffusion of Divine fragrances there. You must consider every one of the people with such devotion, radiance and spirituality, that all may testify that you are of heaven, and the servants of the Kingdom of God: that your hearts are illumined: and your souls adorned with the mysteries of the Kingdom.' [1963]. "When we got near to Edinburgh the Master called us four to His compartment and advised and directed us saying that we are going to Edinburgh where is the beginning of defusing the ABHA Message. We must associate with the people with such enthusiasm and spirituality that all may witness that we are heavenly servants who have turned to ABHA Kingdom with hearts full of light and life full of garden and roses. Then He told us wonderful accounts and real stories and then said now that we are the servants of Divine Threshold and guards of the Everlasting Kingdom we should rise with full enthusiasm and with whole heart and soul to serve His Threshold. Think what we will have to do. However He advised us in detail." (Lutfullah) "On the train 'Abdu’l-Baha told His attendants that they were going to a city where the work of teaching the Cause was just starting and that they should associate with the people with exemplary devotion. Then He told them the story of the Sufi leader, Nur-Ali Shah, who had to flee his homeland because of the hostility of government and people, could not dwell in peace even in the neighbourhood of the holy Shrines of Iraq due to the opposition of the divines, and died an outcast in Baghdad. A few who had remained faithful to him in adversity, though heavily burdened with the cares of the world, pledged themselves not to allow the memory of their master to fade away. They arose with sincerity and determination and, although their work was not of high import, their success was great. How confirmed, said 'Abdu’l-Baha to His attendants, they would be, whose task was to serve the Cause of Bahá’u’lláh, should they arise with equal devotion." [Balyuzi Abdu’l-Baha]

[27] "Mrs. Whyte and some prominent men welcomed the party on the platform." [1963] "Mrs Whyte and many people had come to the station to meet the Master. It was a most wonderful sight at the station." (Lutfullah) Traditionally, it is recollected that Bagpipes welcomed them. It is hard to imagine Sohrab missing this out, equally, Lutfullah was on the Edinburgh Assembly and the notion may come from here. Perhaps the answer could be that the bagpipes were playing but unrelated to the visit.

[29] "...within a stone's-throw of the house where he was" [Prof G S Stewart]. "Mrs Whyte... insisted that the whole party stay at the manse" [1963] "The Master wished to stay in a hotel but with repeated begging and wish of Mrs Whyte that He should stay in her (Mrs Whyte) house He accepted it. So He and the interpreter lived at Rev. Alexander Whyte and we three Persians stayed in a hotel near by." (Lutfullah). "The most personal attendant was called, in translation, the "Lion of God", an old man, picturesque in appearance and of a most attractive spirit, whose after-dinner stories were a great delight. There was a young man, an interpreter, who was not of the inner company, I think, and together with all the Persians permanent home in London. Then there was a very handsome, cultured man, who was a poet of some distinction, according to the interpreter, and whose talk, even in translation, was deeply interesting, spiritually discerning, and beautifully expressed. These three, while sleeping and eating in the hotel, were Dr. Whyte's guests, and to emphasize that, he invited an elderly Quaker lady, a young artist, and myself to be fellow guests with them in the hotel. We had a private suite and did not mingle with the other guests, and it was for us three a very delightful experience." [Prof G S Stewart] are, however, many other people. The Secretary of [the] Esperanto Society[32], the general Secretary of [the] Theosophical Society[33], several professors and many clergymen with their wives are present. The Master comes down. First coffee is served. Then he speaks about his trip from Alexandria[34] to New York [and of] how some of the friends had insisted that he -??????y- take the "Titanic" instead of [the] "Cedric" direct. Afterward people were introduced to Him and He spoke with the Secretary of [the] Esperanto Society. This 1- led - our Beloved to speak on the various means of unification, that although each a powerful agency for unity, yet they were not sufficient. The power of the Holy Spirit is the eternal hand that binds the hearts of men together. Then he spoke on the misunderstanding which exists between the present nations and religions of the world and how easy it is to do away with these bones of contention. He then reviewed his address before the Jews in San-Francisco, which created a tremendous effect, because most of these people are very devoted Christians. An old scotch song was sung after the Master's address which was very sweet and effective. The Master bade them good bye and went to his room.

7 Jan 1913 - Tue

Jan 7th 1913

Dear Harriet!

These days are rapidly passing and once gone they shall form the glorious background of our lives, the springs from which new inspirations shall flow, the caskets which contain the treasures of the heart, the blue, turquoise heaven towards which all of us aspire, the garden of memory in which all these flowers are gathered to perfume the nostrils. After all if the soul is not enriched by these divine experiences, if the spirit is not transformed in the image and likeness of God, if the heavenly life is not obtained then it is better to abandon all hope for future advancement.

Esperanto Society 1

We had a very wonderful day, full of interesting experiences; from early morning till now, returning from the enthusiastic Esperanto meeting[35]. For the City of Edinburgh, it was indeed a miracle! Nothing could show more definitely the power of the Cause and the influence of the word of Our Beloved than the two meetings of today; each unique and distinguished in its own sphere.

Morning Prayer

It was about half past eight when I [heard] the bell calling us, as I found later, to prayer.

32 Esperanto Society promotes Esperanto, a Universal Language.

33 Theosophical Society (founded 1875) promoted brotherhood, the importance of Eastern philosophies and the search for spiritual and psychic truths.

34 Alexandria in Egypt.

35 "...some distinguished guests paid their respects to 'Abdu'l-Bahá. 'Abdu'l-Bahá spoke to them, at length and in great detail, about the teachings of God in this age, the manner in which all the Manifestations of God had appeared, and how man has always denied and rejected Them at the time of Their appearance." [1963]

36 Freemason's Hall, 96 George Street, Edinburgh EH2 3DH.
When I went down to the Library I saw principal Whyte with the members of the family standing on one side and all the maids which were seven I think, standing on the other side, each having a hymn book in the hand. Mrs Whyte gave me one of these books and she went to the organ. All of us sang the songs and afterward Rev. Whyte prayed while all of them knelt down. It was a very new experience to me. Of course this is their daily custom for the Master and the servants to pray to God every morning before starting their daily labors. This is a very lovely custom and affords one a few moments whereby to commune with his Creator. After the prayer we had breakfast and I carried up Our Beloved’s tea to his room.

Visitors

::: About 10.30 a number of people came to see Our Beloved; some with their children; others to receive His Blessings. The children of one of the callers were dressed à la Hylanders, which looked very pretty.

Outlook Tower

::: At 11 o’clock, the brother of Lord Haldene the Chancellor or Secretary of the Navy of Great Britain sends his magnificent auto mobile to the Master to go out and visit the "Outlook Tower" which is guided by the learned scholar and astronomer Prof Patrick Geddes.

Scenery in Edinburgh

::: As we drove out we saw from far the wonderful mountain upon which the old castle of the Scottish Kings is built.

It dates back to 12th Century and is an interesting historical spot. On this mountain, the base of which is decorated with a lovely blue lake there has been built in those bygone ages, a road, one end of this road the castle was constructed and the other end a monastery. This was the beginning of Scotland.

Outlook Tower

Having reached the Outlook Tower, Prof Giddes gave Our Beloved a rousing reception. The Outlook Tower is an educational institution which attempts to teach astronomy, natural geography, maps etc.

7 There are hundreds of maps of various countries, different kinds of globes, maps depicting the progress of the nations; maps portraying the growth of Edinburgh, special rooms devoted to different continents, even the floors of the rooms maps were drawn. Prof Geddes with great excitement took us through these rooms, floor after floor till we reached to the highest room in the Tower. Here the room was made dark in the center there was a round revolving canvass and in the ceiling a hole. I suppose over the roof our Prof. has installed certain mechanical devices and sun-cameras which are connected with wires to the room.

Now by the manipulation of these wires the most marvellous thing becomes visible before your eyes. The Master and all of us are gathered around this round revolving canvass. Suddenly we see the city with its streets with its smoking chimneys with people walking to and fro, cars running hither and thither, even women dusting rugs from the windows. You must know this is not a moving picture but just at that very moment that we were looking at the canvass, these things were going (on in the) outside world. Most amazingly, every part of the city was shown, the scene constantly changing, giving us the most kaleidoscopic picture of the real life of Edinburgh.

Coming out of the Tower we had a most charming view of the whole city. The Master praised his energy and patience, for Prof Geddes has devoted 25 yrs of his life to this institution.

Country Drive

Then after leaving the Outlook Tower we had a drive through the country. One of the most beautiful things about Edinburgh is that it enjoys many green and verdant mountains at the foot of which there are lovely lakes. The scenery is most entrancing! One of the mountains is called King Arthur’s seat where with his 12 knights he discussed the finding of the Holy Grail. The palace of the King was shown to us that when George V comes to Scotland he lives there.
Princes Street

Returning home the Master walked for nearly one hour in the nearby park and then we switched towards the Princes Street where the principal shops and department stores are. Here also is the magnificent statue of Sir Walter Scott. Our Beloved bought several things in different stores and returned home.

Charlotte Square

...had discussion; the Master afterward going to His room to have a much needed rest. I have not been feeling well for the last two days, having caught a severe cold. So I went to the Library and put my large, comfortable chair in front of the cozy, bright fire place and tried to warm myself. At 4 the Master had his tea and Mrs Whyte also came to have a cup of Assam tea.

Oriental Students

At five o'clock the Oriental students began to arrive. First the Master met some of them in the small private rooms, then talk, which was quite long. A student from Persia spoke and on the platform and shook hands with more than 200 of the students. Then a very eloquent student from Damascus spoke. His speech was on peace, brotherhood and welcome to the Master.

Then Our Beloved arose from his seat and spoke on medicine, as the doctors must ever be the means of physical and spiritual healing. He spoke also on a few Bahai principles and advised them when they return to their respective countries, they must be like shining stars. After our Master's talk, which was quite long a student from Persia spoke and on the part of the students he tendered a rising vote of thanks which was carried amidst loud clapping of hands.

Then the Master called 3 of the Egyptian students and talked with them for sometimes.

Esperanto Society 2

At 7:30 we had our dinner and at 8 o'clock the automobile was ready to take the Master to the Freemason's Hall to address the Esperanto Society. The program of which I enclose. As we reached at the door, there were more than 300 people, standing outside, desiring to enter in the Hall, but it seemed they could not. The floor and the gallery seat about 1000 people. It is a new building, and the architecture is very majestic, simple and dignified well lighted with brilliant electricity.

On the platform there sat rows of Professors, Scholars and clergymen of the city, most prominent people. When our Beloved entered the platform all the audience rose to welcome him. It was a wonderful sight never to be forgotten. Not only all the seats were taken but all the aisles were crowded with people standing, while outside there were hundreds of people disappointed. It seemed that all Edinburgh was there. Before the Master sitting on the platform the musical program was given and the address started.

First Prof. John Kelman M.A.D.D. spoke for some minutes. He gave the short history of the movement etc. Then Mr Andrew Wilson looked for his academic letters in the program spoke on the progress of Esperanto and welcome to Abdul Baha. Then Our Beloved delivered a stirring speech on the necessity of a universal language, telling stories and points which throw the audience into laughter and good humour. He carried the audience with his irresistible eloquence on and on to rarer sphere of unity, and unfolded before their eyes the benefits of a universal auxiliary language. There were two tables around which two reporters sat and Our Beloved's address will appear in all the Esperanto magazines and papers as well as tomorrow's dailies.

After the meeting Prof. Prof Geddes delivered an interesting address, showing the progress of events and thanking the Master for his words of wisdom.

Then the Master spoke with several of those who were on the platform and shook hand with more than 200 of the people. Tired and fatigued we returned home and a... newspaper man interviewed our Beloved on some points of the Cause.68

Dinner + Overview
At 10.30 he had his dinner or supper. These two meetings today were very significant! indeed, just in Edinburgh where people have never heard the name of the Cause there is such tremendous interest. Mrs Whyte was very happy on account of the results of these two meetings. The effect of the Master's talk to the students will be far-reaching. No one can estimate how much. We have just received from brother Wilhelm69 500 copies of Palo Altan70 and we divided the same amongst the students. Well, this is 1 o'clock after midnight. I am very tired and I must go to bed. Hope you can read this scribbling and add to it any word which I have left out. Love to all Ahmad

Jan 8th, 1913
Dear Harriet!

St Giles Cathedral 1
As we entered St Giles' Cathedral71 and the Beloved took His seat in the front row of the gallery looking down upon the mass of humanity who have gathered there to hear Handel's Messiah, all the eyes involuntarily turned to Him with wonder and respect. Then the chorus with delightfully trained voices raised the exultant tone "And the Glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together; for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it."72 Was not this a wonderful prophecy which had they wisdom and perception they could see the Glory of the Lord revealed before their own eyes!

Cables
This morning Our Beloved called me to His room and dictated many cables to be forwarded to all parts of the Orient so that the friends may know that he is well and upholding the standard of Baha-o-illah in amongst the contending nations of Europe, "with murder in their eyes".

Morning Prayer
The call to prayer was heard and I hastened down stairs to join the congregation. We sung a very comforting song and Principal73 White prayed while the rest on bended knees listened.

Mr Whyte and his work
::: Principal Alexander White is not only a famous preacher of Scotland, not only enjoys the leadership of one of the most influential churches of Scotland in which he delivers lectures every Sunday morning, but he is the President of one of the greatest Theological Colleges in the Country. From these facts you can dimly realize how significant is the Master's presence in his home as honoured guest by his own insistent invitations. He is rather an old man but vigorous and active. He is at the head of a committee of 200 with another committee of 200 representing the two churches of Scotland who are trying to unite them and remove the sectarian differences. They have been at it for two years and they are very hopeful. The committee had one of its sessions today and after 3 hours of deliberation Principal White came home, an optimist. Tomorrow they will have another session of 5 hours in the Theological College.
He is much strengthened and inspired by our Beloved's words and encouragement.

Morning Papers
After the prayer I got hold of the only morning paper of Edinburgh which contained a fairly good article. Later on the noon papers were read which contained better articles all of which I send you in a separate package. The editorial of the evening dispatch is very good.

Marriage Request
::: Last night as I came out of the Freemason's Hall a young Mohamadan Hindu who is a medical student in the university gave me a letter for our Beloved. Later on when I read it to Him, the young man desired to be married by the Master to a Scotch "lassie". He came this morning, and after much talk we found out they cannot be married now because it takes ten days to get a license from the Registrar of the city. And as the Master would not perform the marriage ceremony without the young man's compliance they were married with the laws of the country and as there was no time for such compliance, therefore the young man was disappointed. However, nothing could be done to change the situation.

Sir John Clark
::: Then a Sir Jhon74 came to see the Master. He is the publisher of a 12 volumes of the Encyclopaedia of religion and morality75 which contains an article on Bahai movement by Prof. Brown76. He is the superintendent of the 4 largest schools in Edinburgh, having more than 4 thousand pupils.77

68 "I saw him at Dr. Whyte's just after the meeting. He was lying back in an arm-chair, while his personal attendant massaged his legs. He was an exhausted man." [Prof G S Stewart]
69 Roy C Wilhelm (1875-1951) of New York was a Hand of the Cause.
70 Palo Altan - [add note]
71 St Giles Cathedral, Royal Mile, Edinburgh EH1 1RE, also known as the High Kirk of Edinburgh, was Edinburgh's religious focal point for at least 900 years.
72 Isaiah 40:5; about 10 mins into the piece. "Among the audience, in the reserved portion, was the Persian mystic, Abdul baha, who arrived late, with a few attendants." [Scotsman 1913-01-09]
73 Principal of New College, Edinburgh, a theological college, and now the School of Divinity.
74 Sir John Maurice Clark (presumably), a partner in T&T Clark from 1880 to 1923, the reference to the schools needs verification (look in The T&T Clark Story by John Dempster (Pentland Press, Durham, 1992), ISBN 1 872985 09 9).
76 Edward Granville Browne (1862-1926) was a British orientalist who visited Bahá'u'lláh and wrote much about the Bábí and Bahá’í Faith and Iran.
Mr Whyte Autographs

::: Mr Whyte was anxious to impress me with his importance and influence in many circles. He had a book of autographs, signed by Queen Victoria and many royal families and nobilities. He requested Our Beloved to write his autograph in it. He, however, wrote for him a very beautiful prayer which was translated. While He was talking with Sir John ----- there was a woman sitting in a corner of the room making a miniature of the Master which was not finished.

Edinburgh College of Arts

About 11.30 the automobile of Sir --- Haldane was again brought at the door and our Beloved according to the invitation of the President went to the Edinburgh College of Arts. It is a very massive building. Nearly two thousand art students attend. They teach painting, sculpture, drawing, and designing etc. The Master conducted by the President of the College was taken to various rooms where boys and girls were painting, moulding etc. Their best student in Sculpture is an Indian. So far at every student's competition he had carried away the highest prize. The Prof of Sculpture took us to this (Hindu) young man. His studio is next to the Professor and he is honoured very much. The Master talked with him, praising his work and giving him incentive to go to India and found the new school of sculpture. He was most delighted with Greek sculpture which are so life-like and human.

Poor Schools / Kings Commissioner

Leaving the college of arts we were driven to the poor district where the schools for their children are most interesting. After long discussion in the educational circles and the Press, the state has come forward and taken into hand the feeding of the very poor children at lunch time. The children were eating the lunch provided for them. The Master walked in these long halls where the children of 6 to 12 yrs - on one side the girls, on the other side the boys - were sitting around large tables and eating their bowls of soup etc. He liked the sight and praised the teachers for their self-sacrifice and service. In one of these rooms the children sung to him some nursery songs and He in turn prayed for them. They are going to frame the prayer and keep it in the room as a keepsake of this wonderful visit. As we came out of the school to go to a kindergarten school which was a block away hundreds of children followed us. Somehow the children got the notion that Our Beloved is the High Special Commissioner appointed by the King of England to pay them a visit, so they were very respectful. Having reached the kindergarten, the little tots greeted Our Beloved. The teacher was delighted and surprised. She showed us the various little rooms and the playthings of the children; their little cots on which they sleep one hour a day, their gardens etc. The Master told her she is a noble worker, every one must appreciate her services, she is serving indeed the future generation; may she be confirmed and assisted! We got in the auto and the hundreds of children with their small, darling hands and little capes bade a hearty farewell to the "Kings' Commissioner".

Food and Shopping

At 7 Charlotte Square the Master asked Mrs Whyte to talk around food long of an hour. We roamed toward the stores and looking through the window glasses, He was attracted by the opera-glasses. He bought ten of them to be taken to Syria for souvenirs.

Universal Peace

We returned home and have lunch. Some one asks whether the Master attended Peace Conferences in America. "Many of them", the answer is given and then an exhaustive discussion as regards universal Peace is carried on. The Master says that in future no war must be undertaken by any nation without the consent of the people and the government may find out this matter by applying the law of Referendum.

Rainy Hall

At half-past four, after drinking a cup of tea, we are driven to the Rainy Hall. The Hall is large and filled to the door. Prof Geddes introduced the Master to the audience who will speak to you on the ideas and ideals of the Bahai movement. Then the Master rises from his seat and delivers a powerful speech on the many principles of the Bahai Revelation, a complete record of which will appear in the tomorrow's papers. The audience enjoyed repeated the wonderful illuminating address and repeatedly applauded. After Our Beloved's address Dr Barbour expressed the thanks of the audience to Abdul Baha for his eloquent exposition of one of the great movements of the time. What struck him, when the Master was speaking was that he was giving expression to some wishes of their own hearts. The Rev. A. B. Rabb said we have been in the habit of sending missionaries from the West to the East to preach the Gospel; this day we have a missionary Abdul Baha had won the hearts of the children by his great generosity and kindness... On Tuesday, the children of the Canongate enjoyed the lantern slides of the Holy Land, responding with eagerness to the lecturer's questions. from the East to preach the old Gospel and to preach it in a new and original way; Dr Kelman said last night that Abdul Baha was not here to proselitise. I am not sure of that; I feel we are not preaching quite the Gospel we have heard today, though we are all longing to preach it and perhaps Abdul Baha’s address would give us some assurance to do so. After the meeting many people came forward and shook the Master’s hand and expressed their delight and happiness.

City

Returning home we had a splendid view of the general illumination of the City as the college of Theology in whose large hall the Master spoke is built on the hill you can see the whole lighted avenues before you.

St Giles Cathedral 2

Without resting much about 8 o’clock the auto took us to St Giles Cathedral. This performance was specially given for the poor. Thousands of people were present. The Master sat in the gallery and during the two hours program listened most carefully.

Please remember me to all the friends Ahmad

[1963: ‘Abdu’l-Bahá enjoyed the programme very much, and when He returned, said, “It was a good meeting. I saw the poor people were happy. The hearts of the poor are very tender, and so they are hurt easily. Once, in Baghdad, a poor man visited us. He sat on a small carpet. Putting his hands on it, he said to me, ‘I suppose one can sleep longer and relax better on this carpet because it is very soft? I gave him the carpet. After a few days I saw him again. He said to me, ‘I thought I would sleep better on it, but really, it did not make any difference, so I sold it.’”

Then ‘Abdu’l-Bahá continued, “The hearts of the poor break easily, so there are no limits to the ways we can give them happiness. In ‘Akká, many times I had the poor in my house. But you do not know the extent to which the poor in the East are in need: these poor people - what can they do!”]

Weather

The weather in Edinburgh... was dry and pleasant, with a light wind blowing from the south-east and a mild atmosphere. The sky in the forenoon was cloudy, but in the afternoon there was a spell of sunshine. The evening sky was clear. The maximum temperature recorded at the City Observatory, Calton Hill, was 45.2 degs. At 10 P.M., when the barometer was steady at 29.50 inches, the thermometer registered 43 degs.

93 “A large number of those present availed themselves of the Chairman’s invitation to meet Abdul Baha in an adjoining room where we found him seated to receive us. We went in single file, and each had the separate privilege of a personal greeting that seemed like meeting one’s dearest friend and at the same time receiving a benediction. When my turn came I mentioned the name of a Bahai friend in London who had asked me to do so, and I was rewarded by a specially radiant smile as he repeated the name, or rather his own abbreviation of the name, “Rosá”, and spoke a few words in English. I could not claim more than this brief moment; but I heard afterwards from “Rosá” that he had mentioned the incident on his return to London.” [EHC Pagan]

90 See description at start of day.

91 “Touched” [Lutfullah]

92 “...the hearts of the poor will very soon be touched and so the more one be the Cause of the happiness of the hearts of the poor the better.” [Lutfullah]
The Master spoke on three subjects: on the indestructibility of the primordial atom; on the immortality of the soul and on the unity of the Manifestations of God. It was a very powerful array of fact and it will appear in the Feb number of "Theosophy in Scotland," a copy of January I mail with other papers in which the Master's arrival is announced on the first page.

After the lecture he delivered a most powerful and spiritual prayer. He stood at the door and shook hand with all. They were delighted with the address and many of them thought it is so much like our own ideas. The Master rested in the room for half an hour; and it was then announced that the supper is served. I suppose there were about 15 of the Theosophical Leaders who were invited for dinner. They had some Persian and Turkish dishes which were immensely enjoyed. After dinner, the autograph book of the headquarter, Bahai books, photos of the Master were brought to him to write a line or sign his name, which he did with the utmost of patience. The General Secretary was the happiest man on the face of the earth! He is a young man, full of enthusiasm, brimming over with hope and optimism. Then the two autos being ready, he himself came with the Master till 7 Charlotte Square. Really, I was so pleased with this meeting. The people were alive and appreciative and there was an air of culture and refinement about them. There were some newspapermen and I have no doubt an article may appear in tomorrow morning's paper.

Ahmad / Newspapers

This morning I got up a little late, because I went to bed extremely tired and wearied with the activities of the day. Having attended to my morning prayer with the rest of the family I was glad to read in the paper a complete report of the last night meeting. It is fair and you will realize by reading it whether the translator has done well or not.

100 "When He mounted the platform in the evening, before a packed hall, He looked very tired. He remained seated in silence for a few moments, after Mr. Graham Pole had reverently introduced Him. Then, seeming to gather strength, He arose, and with voice and manner of joyous animation, and eyes aglow, He paced the platform with a vigorous tread, and spoke with words of great power." (Chosen Highway)

101 Primordial atom - [add note]

102 "When He sat down, applause and cheering reverberated throughout the building. The audience, most reluctant to leave, filed past the Master reverently. A young couple, who were to be married shortly, knelt in front of Him, and whilst holding on to His robes, begged Him to bless their lives." [1963]

103 "Many of these were granted private interviews from which they returned refreshed, feeling their troubles lessened and their difficulties explained in a new and illuminating manner. These interviews, following on the afternoon talk by the Master, much on both strength; and although He would let no one go away unsatisfied, He certainly looked very tired when He mounted the Theosophical platform to address the members and friends who had crowded to hear him. He remained seated in silence for a few moments after Mr Graham Pole had reverently introduced him to the audience and then, as if gathering strength from our sympathy, He sprang to his feet and, with voice and manner of joyous animation, and eyes aglow, He paced the platform and exclaimed, as translated to us sentence by sentence... Abdul Baha remained at the Theosophical Head-quarters where he was entertained to supper before starting for London by the night train, those who were privileged to be with him at table were struck by his geniality and by the special concern he showed in seeing that a member who was deaf should not lose her share of the happy conversation around her." [EHC Pagan]

104 ..."the President brought the Society's book, in which He wrote this prayer: "He is God. O God, from the Sun of Truth cast a ray upon this Society, so that it may be illumined." [1963] Then the head of the Society brought the Society's book to the Master and He wrote a prayer in it for them. Then he (the headman) gave his own book and the Master wrote in his book a short prayer as well." [Lutfullah]

105 "The Theo. Society was so pleased that eve. that it is beyond my power to explain." [Lutfullah]

Visitors

::: Later on a Prof. from Aberdeen, the Secretary of the Islamic Society and a member of the Theosophical Society came to see the Master. The first asked questions about heredity, immortality soul and environment; the third about healing and incarnation and the second desired that the Master may speak to the members of [the] Islamic Society. All these questions were satisfactorily answered. Some more people came and received the blessing.

Visitors / Painter

::: At about 11.30 am, the auto which has served us for the last 2 days is present. This time a Miss Watson and a Minister came with the Master. First Our Beloved called on a painter of artistic and imaginative pictures. He and his wife showed us some of the large paintings. One represented children doing almost all the <coureeeable> things = all kinds of delightful pranks, the other depicting the legendary story of Drydas, another a little child riding on a lion; another sinner before Christ and many other works. The Master blessed them and they were most pleased.

Forth Rail Bridge

::: Then we drove for nine miles to see the greatest engineering feat of Scotland, a bridge, more than one mile long over a river. Having arrived there we came down to look at it. Indeed it is a very colossal affair.

::: We drove back home and on the way the Master spoke to the minister, and Miss Watson. She is an artist of considerable ability and (the Master) praised her much for her keen intelligence and understanding, asking her to read the Bahai writings.

Lunch Table

Arriving home we had our lunch. At the lunch table the Master asked Lancelot, the youngest son of Mrs Whyte to study Persian and talked with him a great deal about these matters.

Women and Equality Meeting

::: At 4 oclock Mrs Whyte had the meeting of Edinburgh women (~100 - 110) in her own spacious library. The Master came down. At first in an adjoining room, some noble Ladies were introduced. There was a Lady who is leaving to London. She is almost a Bahai and she invited the Master to speak in her large parlor. The Master told her to come and see Lady Bloomfield. Then Our Beloved was conducted by Mrs Whyte in the other room. All arose from their seats. His talk was first devoted upon the unity and spirituality, then he branched off to the equality of women, the stories of several women.
Bahai heroines etc. It was a dramatic address in many of its passages. In the audience there were suffragists, suffragettes and anti-suffragists. It was a most difficult thing to talk in a way that all of them may be pleased. All of them may co-operate with each other. But after the meeting Mrs Whyte said that all of them were highly satisfied.

Bulgaria Hospitals

:: Mrs Whyte had received a letter from a woman’s nurse in one of the hospitals in Bulgaria about the awful conditions owing to the lack of medical treatment. So she read this letter to the audience and solicited funds for the wounded and sick in this hospital. There are more than 150 sick ones with only one doctor and one nurse. Turks and Bulgars are alike treated in this hospital. The maid had a small tray in her hand at the door of the room and everyone gave something. Our Beloved gave £10.

On Confirmations

:: Then the Master came up and talked to us a long time on the confirmations of Baha-allah, how He has confirmed all of us in the performing services in His Kingdom. Then he quoted an arabic poet: “If divine assistance is with thee, thou canst draw the globe toward thyself with an hair; if confirmation is cut from thee, even the chains will be broken.” Then he told us a long story about a man who became the King of Persia through his fidelity and love to God.

Overview

Well, Harriet! This is the last letter from Edinburgh. Tomorrow morning at 10 we will take the train for London. Altogether the meetings in Edinburgh were miracles of the power of Abdul Baha. In a city where there is no Bahai assembly, no active workers in the Cause, to witness so much interest, not only in the part of the public but the ministers! - All the ministers praising Our Beloved and his Teachings! Such events are really incomprehensible! Every gathering was well attended and many people were disappointed because they could not get any seat; all the audiences were sympathetic and glad to hear the message of love and life!

Good bye for tonight.

112 Suffragists were men or women who lobbied for women’s right to vote, an issue that was at the fore of the times, and which came to pass in 1918.

113 Suffragettes were members of the women’s suffrage movement, often quite radical or militant.

114 “The Suffragettes were there and also an opposing group of men who occupied high positions in life.” [1963]

115 Abdul Baha addressed a Drawing-room Meeting on the subject of “Women’s rights”, which was a burning question of that time. Besides speaking of the high importance of Motherhood and all that is involved in the early training of children, he urged women to fit themselves by study and training in every kind of science and art and social service. “Fit yourselves for responsibility,” he said, adding with sad emphasis, “you will inevitably have it thrust upon you.” These words came back to many of us, when, before two years had passed, women were called upon to fill every kind of civilian post left vacant by our men at the front; and also to organise and carry out auxiliary army services for the relief of sick and wounded all over the world. Political enfranchisement has naturally followed this evidence of “fitness” in nearly every country concerned; so that his advice to adhere to a constructive rather than a militant policy seems justified... From this meeting at the house of his Scottish hostess, Mrs Alexander White, Abdul Baha and his Persian friends went to the Head-quarters of the Theosophical Society...” [EHC Pagan]

116 Bulgaria (Orthodox Christian) borders Turkey (Muslim), having broken away from Ottoman rule and re-established as a constitutional monarchy in 1878.

117 Worth £2000-3000 in 2005 currency according to http://www.mswth.com/ukcompare. “Mrs Whyte wished to meet the hotel bill of ‘Abdu’l-Baha’s attendants, but He would not accept her offer.” [Balyuzi Abdu’l-Baha]

118 Poet - [add note]
take us to the station which is very near. There we meet Mr Page, the active and energetic Secretary of the Esperanto Society, Mr Paul, the kind and hospital Theosophical general secretary, one of the Persian students and two ministers with several ladies and gentlemen who have come to say farewell to Our Beloved. Their hearts are full of gratitude. They are happy because the Sun of Truth shone from the horizon of their country. Just at 10.5 the train was pulled out of the station and our eyes could see on the platform the hands and handkerchiefs waving farewell to Him.

Cables

The Master dictated some cables to be sent to America. One to Mr [Roy] Wilhelm [in New York], "Scotland illumined. Greetings to all friends."

Isobel Fraser

On our train the ever-faithful Miss [Isobel] Fraser who came especially to Edinburgh to serve was with us on the train and Our Beloved called her to His Reserved compartment. All the way from Edinburgh to London, now and then the Master would give her teachings and instructions; especially about the prophecies of the old Testament concerning the coming of the Messiah. "This is a great Dispensation" the Master says. All its events are unique. Baha-ullah appeared with such Majesty and Power that even the enemies were discomfitted. They arose in persecution and in order to exile Him, but they were unable to ridicule or scoff at the Cause. The greatness of this Cause will become apparent in the future. Miss Fraser told us how on her arrival in Edinburgh she went directly to see two of the Editors and gave them literature and articles some of which were printed.

One of these editors said - that the people of Scotland cannot realize what a wonderful event has happened in the history of Scotland, and I know and appreciate and will do everything to bring the principles of this Cause before the attention of the public.

Food in Train

At 1.30 pm all of us took lunch in the dining car with Our Beloved. He said: The most important food is the spiritual food. This material food must be eaten three times a day, but whosoever eats of the spiritual food shall never hunger. The Spiritual food is the love of God, the Knowledge of God, attraction with the Breaths of the Holy Spirit and abstraction from material desires. These very conversations of ours today consisted of the spiritual food. God had so destined that you (Mrs Fraser) be here with us in this train; so that undisturbed we may talk together on these ideal subjects. There must be a wisdom in this. I hope that thou mayest become a great teacher of this Cause and be my daughter.

Chinese and Roman Artists

... Later on the Master told a story of competition between the Chinese and Roman artists. The king appointed a large hall where both of them could paint. The Chinese asked for a curtain to be hung in the middle of the Hall - so that their competitor may not see what they are doing. The Chinese artists worked for 6 months day and night but the Roman artists did not work and everybody thought they are going to lose. Just one day before the King's coming to give the award, the Roman artists set to work and polished the wall like a mirror. The King's ministers and courtiers came. First they saw the chinese paintings. They were marvellous and beautiful. The curtain then was put aside so they see also the Roman works. The wall polished by the Roman Artists was so transparent that the chinese paintings on the opposite wall were entirely reflected therein.

The award went to the Romans. Now, may your heart be as pure and as transparent so that the pictures and images of the Kingdom of Abha may be reflected therein.

London

We arrived in Euston station at 7 o'clock. Miss Jack and several other friends were there to greet Our Beloved. In a taxi cab we drove to 97 Cadogan Gardens. The ladies were waiting for the coming of the King. After a few minutes the Master expressed the desire of going to a hotel and have the meetings here. They have travelled themselves too much. Lady Bloomfield and her daughters and Miss Platt moaned and lamented and pleaded, the latter on her knees till the Master consented to stay. Haji Ameen and the rest are gone to Paris but two new Persians have arrived from Tehran. I had a very bad headache so I went to bed before 11 o'clock. I enclose a copy of vote in which the Master's address is printed (not all of it) also copy of Edinburgh paper. Love to all Ahmad

Dear Harriet!

...Since his return to London he is anxious that teachers may go to Edinburgh and yesterday the name of Miss Buckton was included in public meetings at 54 Canaan Lane in Edinburgh.

Followup Teachers to Edinburgh

128 This story also appears in Ahmad Sohrab's 'I Heard Him Say', p64.
127 Miss Marion Jack was an artist who shared a flat with Elizabeth Herrick and who stayed on and promoted the Faith in Scotland with Isobel Fraser, including public meetings at 54 Canaan Lane in Edinburgh.

was mentioned in the train; that is she knows how to speak with Church people, she is certainly the one to go there for awhile and try to teach and water the seeds that the Master has sown; for there were many people who have expressed their desire to join the Bahai movement. Therefore this morning when Miss Chapel129 and Miss Buckton came in, the Master called them in and after greeting them and inquiring about their health said "to the latter"130 Thou must go to Scotland. The people are immensely interested. Edinburgh has great capability. There are many people who are interested. You must go there and teach in churches, in societies, everywhere. We have scattered good seeds in that soil; now souls who can water this cultivation must go there...

[Balyuzi: In the evening of the 14th, Mushiru'l-Mulk, the Persian Minister in London, gave a dinner party for 'Abdu'l-Baha at the Legation. The Minister and his staff rejoiced over the news of 'Abdu'l-Baha's visit to Scotland, the reception accorded to Him in Edinburgh, the reports which had appeared in the press. That 'Abdu'l-Baha had indeed brought glory to the people of the Orient was evident to them all, even as He had described it to the Minister, in their first meeting.]

Tablet to Theosophical Society

Port Said, Egypt

Last night Abdu'l-Bahá told me to come to Him in the morning with a number of petitions just received; so I was there quite early. While He was dictating Tablets he carried on different lines of conversations with a stream of callers and pilgrims. Tablets were revealed for a large number of friends in Europe and America, and a wonderful article for the "Theosophy" of Scotland in Edinburgh, the Editor of which is Mr Graham Pole.

[Tablet Quoted]

Fatigues in Europe

"I have tarried in Egypt for a few days because I was weakened by the fatigue of traveling through the cities of Europe; by the variable climates of the American mountains and prairies and by the length and hardships of the voyage. While in Europe one day we were in London and another in Edinburgh; now in Paris and anon in Stuttgart; once in Budapest and again in Vienna. We were almost every hour in another place, delivering lengthy speeches and addresses, and notwithstanding the indisposition of the body, day and night I cried and raised my voice in large meetings and important churches..."

Isabel Fraser

...May the Hand of God protect you [Isabel Fraser] throughout your voyage and bring you safely into the land of Egypt wherein the ideal Joseph lives! We [Ahmad and company] are all gladness because you are coming and look forward to the day when we will again talk of holy and divine things as we were wont to do in London and Edinburgh, Bristol and Paris. You will be a welcome guest in the holy household...

Tablet to Theosophical Society

To-night we had a meeting at the House of Khorassani. Mirza Mahmoud spoke on the trip of Abdu'l-Bahá to Edinburgh. There were many Bahá'ís of different nationalities. An interesting Tablet was sent to Mr. Graham Pole, the Editor of the Scotland Theosophy in Edinburgh, in which Abdul Baha refers to Mrs. Besant, the President of the Theosophical Society. As he has spoken before many of their societies in various cities, both in the United States and Europe, it will not be out of place to quote it herein, so that the friends may become informed of its contents:

O THOU MY BELOVED FRIEND!

"Thy letter was received from India. From its contents it became evident that thou art occupied, and art spending thy days in the company of that respected lady, Mrs. Besant. I hope thou mayst be ever happy, serene, confirmed and assisted; so that thou mayst become able to render a signal service to the respected lady, Mrs. Besant. The ideal of Mrs. Besant, I say truly is very lofty. She is working and labouring most valiantly, and her utmost hope is to render a service to the world of humanity, and to be the means of the establishment of good-fellowship and love between all the communities of the earth. At all times I am praying in her behalf, so that the Confirmations of the Kingdom may surround her, that she may sow the seed of service in pure, productive soil; and that she may gather many, many harvests; then the heavenly benediction will be obtained, the outpourings of the Holy Spirit realised, and her services, troubles and hardships crowned with eternal results. I desire this station for her. Consider how many important women have come into this world! How many queens have lived upon this earth! How many distinguished ladies have become the presidents of Societies! But neither have their names nor any great account of their deeds been left behind! Yet Mary Magdalene, who was only a peasant woman, because she became inspired to serve the Kingdom of Christ and to scatter his seeds in productive ground - what a great crop she gathered! And through the blessing of that harvest, they are even now building churches in her name! In all the Churches the people glorify and praise her and now, after 1900 years, Abdul Baha is speaking of her lofty station! He testifies to the fact, that, in the Kingdom of Christ she served more than all the apostles. She even became the cause of the firmness and steadfastness of the Apostles, for, accordingly to the Text of the Gospels, their faith wavered after the crucifixion, but Mary Magdalene inspired them with resolution, and certainty. Consider what a service she rendered to the Kingdom of Christ! That is why, like unto a star, she is shining from the horizon of Eternity.

"Convey my most respectful greeting to the revered Lady, Mrs Besant.
"Upon thee be greeting and praise.
(Signed) "ABDUL BAHÁ ABABBAS."

While in America and Europe Abdul Baha often stated that the Bahais must associate with the Theosophists because they were nearer to this Cause than many other groups.

"A Meeting Recalled" - Florence Altass Recollections

The following is an account by Miss Florence Altass, now of Hastings, of her meeting with 'Abdu'l-Baha in Edinburgh in 1912.

"I had known Dr. Johnson and Dr. Hakim who had invited me to meetings and I went regularly and always felt the profundity of the readings. It all rang so true.

Then the great day arrived when the Beloved 'Abdu'l-Baha gave a talk. Although I didn't know the language, I felt I knew the message he gave. The interpreter didn't mean anything to me, somehow my eyes were riveted on The Great Teacher and Messenger. His great blue eyes seemed to pierce my very soul and I knew then I belonged, but not on the outer plane. Within me a battle went on for years after, as I had been an ardent Catholic and felt that Church held my allegiance. When 'Abdu'l-Baha shook hands with me, he seemed to transmit something to me, and I've never been the same since, but still the battle went on and the Church I loved seemed like a barrier between me and my conscience.

Before Dr. Johnson passed on, I was deciding to go to London. He gave me an address, in a very shaky writing, at Clifton Hill where I could contact more Bahá'ís. I never called them and for years heard no more until Richard St. Barbe Baker came along. I never mentioned to him my thoughts about the two loves and whether I should be true to the Church of my childhood. While talking he read a prayer to me and then sent me a prayer book, Bahá'í, of course, which I treasure. He went away and I used the Prayer Book daily and asked for light but had quite lost sight of any Bahá'í until in Brighton I saw an advertisement and went along each week. Friends were very kind to me although I was still an "outsider". Then for three years I was very ill, with no thought of recovery. That decided me, I felt compelled to write and ask to be accepted. No doubts then that I was not doing the right thing.

Thoughts on seeing a vision of 'Abdu'l-Baha

Beyond the consciousness of dreams, I slept,
A human body, coffined by fatigue,
Away from heartbeat, and the circling blood,
Deeply alone with myself, and yet I went beyond
The touch of friendly hands,
And saw no mortal face.
But as I stretched to wake
It was as though
My whole self breathed celestial verities.
I found no depth that was not deeper still,
No height that could be called the peak of time,
No width that was not wider than the wide.
Where had I drifted in the where of space?
Whose love had brought me certainty again?
Through the tight wrappings of the days' swift pass -
Then crystal clear - I knew!
My Lord had seen my need - no chiding word!
The total love of Bahá'u'lláh for all the world!
He took - and shared with me.
For one bright flash, unknowingly, yet known
I had ascended with Him into Light.

Writing in 1978, she said: "I felt so unworthy and could never reach the heights expected of me as a Bahá'í. The gentle voice of 'Abdu'l-Bahá still rings in my ears and His lovely blue eyes have followed me all my long life - now in my 95th year. Pardon this reference to myself - it is not to my credit!"

7 Charlotte Square

Description of the Whyte's house at 7 Charlotte Square, and a mention of Abdu'l-Bahá on pp 7-11 of 'Focus and Diversions' (1963) by Lancelot Law Whyte (b 1896, the 8th child of Jane Elizabeth Whyte).

There were four floors and a basement. On the top floor my eldest sister, a Christian Science practitioner, earned fees for meditation directed towards clients who, not being Scientists, thought that they were physically ill.

On the next floor I only remember two bedrooms: my father's small room, which did not count, and my mother's, which most decidedly did. For it was big and full of strange objects, scents, and other mysteries. There was an electric oven machine to purify the air. There were spirit lamps for midnight meals (in the day-time she preferred, as it were, 'to live off the scent of flowers'), Celtic crosses, scarabs and drawings from Egypt, several Buddhas of dubious sex, eaux de Cologne and lavender, and my mother sitting up in bed writing letters to extraordinary men all over the world: men with dreams to convert mankind (there was nothing sectarian in No. 7, everything was universal) to new and better religions and more wonderful ways of living. She did not need to save money, so she gave it away, I imagine, to geniuses and cranks. Patrick Geddes I remember, the cranks are forgotten.

One floor further down was my father's enormous study, a room of dignity with 6,000 books, where he would be writing sermons or letters to simple unhappy men and women everywhere. In retrospect he seems to me, like most of us, to have been a divided person, but with a warm and sensitive nature.

On the ground floor was a large schoolroom. In an attempt, I suppose, to balance Mary Baker Eddy, the Buddha, Calvin, and Boehme, this was devoted to what I used to call 'muscular Christianity', for it was turned into a gymnasium, complete with parallel bars and what-not, where my father's church assistants used to teach us boys that religion also meant having a healthy body - sex into muscle. Was any other Scottish home religious quite in the manner of No. 7? A distinguished agnostic, a good friend of the family, once said, 'My religion is No. 7': he found everything there.

None the less, through all this melee of sublimations there flowed a vigorous current of humanity, intelligence, knowledge of the wide world, nonconformism, and, in my mother, a streak of prophetic common sense amounting almost to genius. To these blessed sanities I owe my escape from religious mania. It seems that my mother decided rather early that she had to do something about the religious excess at home. For her four sons were sent to advanced experimental schools in England. By the time I arrived her assurance was established, for she saved me at the age of ten from further Calvinism, and went whole hog by sending me 350 miles away to Badley's agnostic and rationalistic co-educational Bedales.
I should not over-stress the schooling. For every day of our lives at home was a continuous Scottish Bildung, always something fresh, always international. With a stream of remarkable guests. I was the youngest child, yet I recall at random Abdul Baha Abbas, the leader of the Persian Bahai movement, whose blessing on me made the East seem friendly for life; David Lloyd George, running up the stairs, apparently blind to the religious strata he was traversing; and Patrick Geddes, obviously what he was - a bearded prophet; Norman Angell, a worldly wise idealist; and C.F. Andrews, friend of Gandhi and Tagore. Every Sunday evening there was a supper at which all sorts would be present: Russians such as Prince Nicholas Galititzin; Serbians, Father Velimirovic; Bulgarians, Mrs Elenka Miller, née Dimitrova; and so on.

Transcription Notes

State of the Diary
The original of the diary that was available has been considerably edited, making the original words very hard to decipher, although where the original is impossible to read, the emendation, and hence the sense is clear. The original seems preferable to the amended version, particularly because the tense tends to be in the present tense in the original, making you feel part of the action. It looks like this editor was Sohrab himself, since most of the changes are so trivial, it is hard to imagine anyone but the author himself would bother with such changes, and there are (very occasionally) emendations that only the original author would have known - for example, whilst 11 Jan 1913 is completely ambiguous as to whom is being addressed, the emendations ('to the latter') make it clear, and 9 Jan p10 has the emendation 'delightful pranks' for what may have been unreadible even in the original. The fact that the emendations only occasionally reveal new material, suggests that this editing was done at a reasonably later date; the editing hand has both similarities and dissimilarities from the original hand, however such dissimilarities could be attributable to the effects of a person's years, a different pen, and different physical circumstances of writing.

Sample of Diary Writing
This sample of the Diary is from 6 Jan 1913, page 10, illustrating how the later editing makes the original difficult to read.
